

LANSBURG & BRO

A Special Sale of Notions.

Don't be indifferent to the small wares. It seems like a trifle when we sell you these needables at cost, but see how much oftener you have use for these articles than you do for any other class of merchandise. These are used in your families every day.

Special prices prevail for this week only.

Fast Black
Darning Cotton
2 Cards for 1c
Sold everywhere
At double

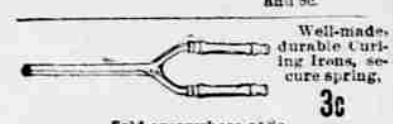

Best quality Kid Curriers,
Light and Dark,
4c Doz.
Sold everywhere at 10c.

Sarah Bernhardt
Curling Pins, so well known.
7c
Sold everywhere at 10c.

Black Enamel and Natural Wood Stocking
Darning.
3c
Sold everywhere at 5c

Well-made,
durable and secure spring.
3c
Sold everywhere at 5c.

Genuine Bristle,
Olive Wood Back
Hair Brush.
15c
Sold everywhere at 25c.

Good Thimbles (plated),
in all sizes.
2 for 1c.
Sold everywhere at 5c.

Tape Measures
In Nickel Cases, having a spring, full long.
7c.
Sold everywhere at 10 and 12c.

Best
Japanese
Hair Pins,
assorted
kinds.
3c.
Sold everywhere at 5c.

Gents' Pocket
Combs, in a Neat
Leather Case.
6c.
Sold everywhere at 10c.

All-silk Filled
Garter Web,
in black, yellow,
pink, blue and red.
12c yd.
Sold everywhere at 15c.

Black Rubber Fine Combs,
4c.
Sold everywhere at 10c

H. F. Noss' Cubes of
Pins, so well known.
6c.
Sold everywhere at 10c.

Emeries that look like strawberries, just right
for your home use.
3c.
Sold everywhere at 5c.

Tracing Wheels, Enamel Handle,
Well made.
2c.
Sold everywhere at 5c.

Hard Rubber Dressing Combs.
5c
Sold everywhere at 10c.

You don't like to wait long for these little things—and you won't have to. We have so arranged matters that you can have your purchases in a little while.

Every dressmaker ought to
be tempted by this sale.

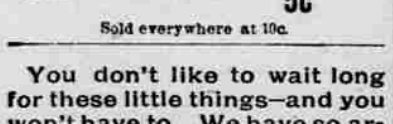

Every dressmaker ought to
be tempted by this sale.

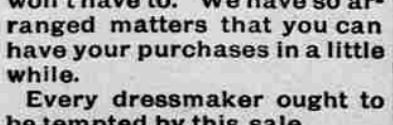

Every dressmaker ought to
be tempted by this sale.

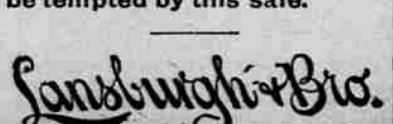

Every dressmaker ought to
be tempted by this sale.

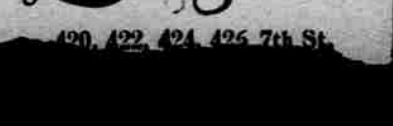

Every dressmaker ought to
be tempted by this sale.

Every dressmaker ought to
be tempted by this sale.

Every dressmaker ought to
be tempted by this sale.

Every dressmaker ought to
be tempted by this sale.

DEBUTANTES WHO ARE RICH

Society Will Receive Three Charming Young Women This Season.

Miss Grace Denio Littlefield Will Winter Here—Matthewson-Ringwalt Wedding Tomorrow.

Mr. Hastings, the new secretary of the Hawaiian republic, is a familiar figure on the streets here. He is an American—a Yankee, in fact—by birth, but has spent the most of his life on that little sea-girt island, whose domestic affairs for some time past have been of interest to the world at large. His wife is a native, a descendant probably of a missionary family, as most of the natives on the island are. Mrs. Hastings is a large, fine-looking woman, and by her personal appearance brings to mind Mrs. Carrier, the wife of the former minister from Hawaii.

It argues well for the prospective gaities that no less than three of this season's debutantes are young women of great wealth, with mothers who have already shown their intentions toward society by lavish entertaining, and with homes that are especially adapted for carrying out of their hospitable intentions. I refer to Miss Barney, Miss Anderson and Miss Warder.

Miss Barney is a picturesque blond, with a wealth of fair hair, dark, lustrous eyes and a clear complexion. There is something in her expression that suggests her veranda, although the resemblance is not striking. Miss Barney has been partly educated in Europe, is a fluent linguist, and, after the fashion of the day, fond of outdoor sports. The Barney house on Rhode Island avenue, while not of any very great pretensions on the outside, has an attractive interior. Mrs. Barney's studio, especially, is an interesting room, rich in curio and bric-a-brac, the old paintings and ever fresh evidence of its clever chateleine's skill, who has succeeded remarkably well in portraiture.

But notwithstanding her devotion to art, Mrs. Barney finds abundance of time for society, and has planned many a first winter in society a memorable one. Mrs. Warder's handsome home and that of her neighbors, Mrs. Anderson, as among the most prominent, have received frequent mention. It is needless to say that the interiors of these beautiful evidences of that master's skill, carry out the promise of the exterior, and are admirably adapted for entertaining, as they were planned to be. Miss Warder is a younger addition of her popular sister, Mrs. Ward Thorton, very attractive in appearance, and with more winning ways. The Warders spent most of the fall in the Adirondacks, at Saranac Lake. Miss Warder is an excellent whip, and is seen at her best spinning over the asphalt, the ribbons held tight in her little hands, over the back of as pretty a pair of bay roadsters as can be seen in town.

Miss Anderson is very like her mother—"A daughter of the gods, divinely tall"—with fine carriage and a distinguished bearing. She dresses well, and has an unusual interest, which is a young girl's chief attraction. The Pink Carnation Club met Saturday night for the first time this season at the home of its president, Miss Reche Butler, of Capitol Hill. The parlors were prettily decorated with palms and bowls of pink carnations, and the dining room was a small grotto formed of tiny slabs of white granite and ferns and carnations, from which flowed streams of lemonade. There were several pretty fancy dances by Miss Lattie Wallace and Master Harrison Wilkins, friends of Miss Butler's young sister Eugenea, and a vocal solo with mandolin accompaniment by Miss Laura White and Duncan Wells.

Among the guests were Miss Lorena White, Miss Gay Thompson, Miss Annie Beall, Miss Flora Boswell, Miss Henrietta McDonald, Miss Alma and Katie Thompson, Miss Marcia Tarkington, Mr. Frank L. Royce, Mr. Harry Goff, Mr. Walter Fowler, Mr. Damon Gibb, Mr. Moses White, Mr. Fred Ackerson, Mr. J. E. Lloyd, and Mr. Lawrence Judd.

Miss Grace Denio Littlefield, whose handsome house on Massachusetts avenue has been closed for the past year, has announced her intention of spending the winter here, and will be a welcome addition to the literary circle.

Miss Gertrude Evangeline Mathewson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Mathewson of No. 1610 Eighth street northwest, will be married tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock to Mr. Joseph Clarkson Ringwalt, also of this city.

The ceremony, which will take place in Trinity P. E. Church, will be performed by Dr. Thomas G. Addison, the pastor. The bride will wear white satin duchesse, cut walking length, with veil of tulle, and carry white chrysanthemums tied with satin ribbon. She will be attended by her sister, Miss Adella E. Mathewson, who will be gown in pink China silk and carry chrysanthemums of the same pink color.

Mr. George A. Terrett will serve the groom as best man, and the ushers will be Messrs. E. M. Shaw, Charles F. Roberts, Thomas S. White, and H. G. Wilbur of Atlanta. Upon the return of Mr. and Mrs. Ringwalt from their bridal trip they will be at home temporarily at the residence of the bride's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Benner of Annapolis are the guests of Mrs. E. L. Birch of South Washington.

Miss Eleanor Butler of South Washington will give a box and bag social this evening to the members of the G. E. Club. The proceeds accruing from the small admission charged will be for the benefit of the Helping Hand Club, which is a branch organization of the G. E. Club, intended for the relief of as many of the Christmas poor as there are members of the club.

Arthur V. Wells has returned from a two weeks' visit to relatives in Missouri.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam E. McGrath will return this afternoon from the Atlanta Exposition, where they have been for the past four weeks.

The Legion of Loyal Women will hold a meeting at their hall this evening, No. 419 Third street northwest, to decide upon a series of entertainments for the coming winter.

Miss Callie Lenthall, of East Washington, is visiting Miss Marie Jennifer, of Clarke county, Va.

Mrs. Margaretta Ellison and her daughter, Miss Madge Ellison, of Pittsburgh, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. White, of Seventh street northeast, left yesterday for their home, when, after a brief stay, they will leave for their annual winter visit to the South.

Miss Belle Brown, of Brightwood Park, D. C., was married Saturday morning at 11:30 o'clock to Mr. James G. Keene, of Baltimore. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Meadows, who also officiated at the marriage of the bride's mother, at his residence, No. 903 Thirteenth street northwest.

The bride was gown in a suit of brown cloth, and carried a bouquet of pink chrysanthemums.

Miss Hazel Sprague, of Massachusetts avenue, will leave this evening for Boston to remain until the spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Moses Brightwood have returned from their four months' trip abroad.

Miss Elsie Baker of M street is visiting her aunt, Mrs. R. Beall of Pittsburgh.

Mrs. B. W. Homer of No. 1010 Thirteenth street northwest will give a tea tomorrow afternoon.

Mrs. McKnight Moses, Mrs. J. J. Edison, Mrs. John Farnham, Mrs. J. B. Wright, and

At the BON MARCHE

One-hour Sales Tuesday

On our great ONE-HOUR SALE DAYS this store becomes a veritable beehive of trade. Tomorrow will be no exception, for the following bargains will insure big business. Arrange your shopping tour tonight.

9 to 10 a. m.

TAM O'SHANTER HATS, in plaids and plain colors; usual price, 25c; only two to purchaser. This hour.....15c
READY-MADE PILLOW CASES—Good muslin, worth 10c; one pair to a customer. This hour.....5c
10c. Brown's Shoe Polish; 2 only to a purchaser.....6c
BLACK SPOOL SILK—100 yards, all numbers; worth 3c; not more than 6 spools to a buyer.....1c

10 to 11 a. m.

50c. REAL OSTRICH Black Princess Feathers, 2 to a layer. This hour.....25c
MEN'S UNLAUNDERED SHIRTS, Homestead Muslin, with 2,000 linen Bosom, Collar, Band and Cuffs. Never sold less than 50c. 2 to a layer, this hour.....35c

3 to 4 p. m.

75c. LADIES' PANTS AND VESTS—two-thirds cream wool—high neck and long sleeves—two to a buyer.....53c
LADIES' UMBRELLAS—Gloria silk, paragon frames, 20 inch, steel rods, cover to match. Usual price, $1.75. One to a purchaser. This hour.....1.19
10c. IMITATION HAIR CLOTH—Black and color—five yards to a buyer. This hour.....4 3 4c

4 to 5 p. m.

GENTLE SEAL and Alligator Combination Pocketbooks, Black and Colors. Worth 60c. One to a buyer.....39c
5-INCH CHAMELEON RIBBON in all colors—all silk—regular 39c quality. Only five yards to a buyer.....21c
LADIES' HANDKERCHIEFS—Plain White, hemstitched—regular 10c value—only three to a layer. This hour.....3c

Bon Marche,

314 and 316 7th St. N.W.

Mrs. Weston Flint of the Northfort Guild are the ladies in charge of a counter luncheon for the benefit of the National Hospital, which will be given tomorrow, Wednesday, and Thursday. "Good things" will be served from 12 to 2 o'clock at the Hotel building, first floor, No. 1328 F street northwest.

Miss Lockwood of Miss Joy Lindsay, whose marriage to Dr. Ayres of New York takes place Wednesday.

The Continental Chapter of the Daughters of the Revolution will hold their first meeting at the Oxford this evening. Mr. H. Grant Barwell will deliver an address on "Women of the Revolution."

A musical and literary entertainment will be given tonight at Carroll Hall for the benefit of St. Vincent's fair. It will be under the management of Miss O'Connor and Miss Mankin, assisted by Miss Blanche Mattingly, Mr. George O'Connor, Mr. Edward J. Walthe and other well-known local talent. The concert will be prefaced by an address by Rev. Dr. Stafford, of St. Patrick's Church.

Miss Norah McWilliams, of Cincinnati, is a guest of Miss Jennie M. McWilliams, of Capitol Hill. After a brief visit, Miss McWilliams will leave for North Carolina, where she has many relatives and friends.

A marriage of interest to Washington people is that of Miss Mary Beverly Chickester, daughter of Capt. Arthur Mason Chickester of Virginia, to Mr. Wilcox Jenkins of Baltimore. The ceremony will occur at Iron Louden County, Va., the home of the bride, December 11.

The Travel Club will meet tonight at the Strathmore Arms. Dr. Frebury, Ruth Ward Kahn of Colorado and Mary Whitney Emerson will give talks on travel, and the evening promises to be one of unusual interest.

Ruth Ward Kahn, the well-known poetess and lecturer, is in the city, stopping at No. 1101 K street northwest, en route to Bermuda, where she expects to spend the winter.

Bicycling is a glorious pastime. It brings roses to the cheeks, pleasure to the heart, diversion to the mind, and incidentally a ravenous appetite.

On a "city hurry" declared a delicately built pretty girl to her stalwart masculine companion, as they alighted from their wheels in front of her home on Connecticut, asserted it was crisp and cool and they had enjoyed a long spin together. He admired her common sense statement and added he was "starving."

It is about 11 o'clock on tea time, fully two hours before dinner, but the very idea of tea was left unsuggested by the hearty couple and they quickly went in to rescue themselves from starvation. "You must help," she said, "if our lives are to be spared, and one of us saved from cannibalism." He meekly followed her to the dining-room, and sat down to a shifting, chafing dish, disappeared into the pantry and quickly returned with sundry mysterious silver-topped bottles and a porcelain dish of something. Handling him a book, she pointed to a certain page.

"You read the incantation," she commanded, "while I mix the broth." He solemnly read as directed. "A pinch of salt," "a dash of sherry," etc., while she dexterously followed his commands, and presently a delicious steam arose. Seated by the fire, each on either side, they enjoyed their impromptu spread with all the satisfaction of having done a clever thing together.

It is a true story that only in newspaper jokes do society men refer disparagingly to their wives' of "the biscuits mother used to bake," but it is also a fact that no single is more agreeable to the masculine eye—critical than a dainty woman engaged in housewifely pursuits. Quite a rivalry exists among society girls in this respect, the daughters of J. H. and Kate V. McIntyre, aged seven years and six months.

Funeral on Monday evening, November 18, from residence, No. 3211 O street northwest. Deceased died Saturday evening, November 16, at 10 o'clock, after a lingering illness. Mary F. Belmont, wife of H. C. Belmont, aged forty-two years, died at her residence, 1215 Pennsylvania avenue southeast, thence to St. Peter's Church, at 2 o'clock p. m., Tuesday, November 19th.

The wedding of Miss Estelle Littlepage, daughter of Capt. H. Beverly Littlepage, and Mr. Alvan Macaulay will take place at St. Andrew's church, Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Miss Estelle Littlepage, sister of the bride, will be maid of honor, wearing pale green silk and carrying pink fringed chrysanthemums. Misses May Canby, Osborn of West of Baltimore, Theobald, and Marie and Ida Young will wear white organdie, daintily trimmed with green ribbons and carry bouquets of white chrysanthemums. The bride will be gown in white satin, trimmed with pearls and rare lace, and her bouquet will be of lilies of the valley.

At the home of Mrs. J. H. and Kate V. McIntyre, aged seven years and six months.

daughter of Capt. Arthur Mason Chickester of Virginia, to Mr. Wilcox Jenkins of Baltimore. The ceremony will occur at Iron Louden County, Va., the home of the bride, December 11.

The Travel Club will meet tonight at the Strathmore Arms. Dr. Frebury, Ruth Ward Kahn of Colorado and Mary Whitney Emerson will give talks on travel, and the evening promises to be one of unusual interest.

Ruth Ward Kahn, the well-known poetess and lecturer, is in the city, stopping at No. 1101 K street northwest, en route to Bermuda, where she expects to spend the winter.

Bicycling is a glorious pastime. It brings roses to the cheeks, pleasure to the heart, diversion to the mind, and incidentally a ravenous appetite.

On a "city hurry" declared a delicately built pretty girl to her stalwart masculine companion, as they alighted from their wheels in front of her home on Connecticut, asserted it was crisp and cool and they had enjoyed a long spin together. He admired her common sense statement and added he was "starving."

It is about 11 o'clock on tea time, fully two hours before dinner, but the very idea of tea was left unsuggested by the hearty couple and they quickly went in to rescue themselves from starvation. "You must help," she said, "if our lives are to be spared, and one of us saved from cannibalism." He meekly followed her to the dining-room, and sat down to a shifting, chafing dish, disappeared into the pantry and quickly returned with sundry mysterious silver-topped bottles and a porcelain dish of something. Handling him a book, she pointed to a certain page.

"You read the incantation," she commanded, "while I mix the broth." He solemnly read as directed. "A pinch of salt," "a dash of sherry," etc., while she dexterously followed his commands, and presently a delicious steam arose. Seated by the fire, each on either side, they enjoyed their impromptu spread with all the satisfaction of having done a clever thing together.

It is a true story that only in newspaper jokes do society men refer disparagingly to their wives' of "the biscuits mother used to bake," but it is also a fact that no single is more agreeable to the masculine eye—critical than a dainty woman engaged in housewifely pursuits. Quite a rivalry exists among society girls in this respect, the daughters of J. H. and Kate V. McIntyre, aged seven years and six months.

Funeral on Monday evening, November 18, from residence, No. 3211 O street northwest. Deceased died Saturday evening, November 16, at 10 o'clock, after a lingering illness. Mary F. Belmont, wife of H. C. Belmont, aged forty-two years, died at her residence, 1215 Pennsylvania avenue southeast, thence to St. Peter's Church, at 2 o'clock p. m., Tuesday, November 19th.

The wedding of Miss Estelle Littlepage, daughter of Capt. H. Beverly Littlepage, and Mr. Alvan Macaulay will take place at St. Andrew's church, Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Miss Estelle Littlepage, sister of the bride, will be maid of honor, wearing pale green silk and carrying pink fringed chrysanthemums. Misses May Canby, Osborn of West of Baltimore, Theobald, and Marie and Ida Young will wear white organdie, daintily trimmed with green ribbons and carry bouquets of white chrysanthemums. The bride will be gown in white satin, trimmed with pearls and rare lace, and her bouquet will be of lilies of the valley.

At the home of Mrs. J. H. and Kate V. McIntyre, aged seven years and six months.

The wedding of Miss Estelle Littlepage, daughter of Capt. H. Beverly Littlepage, and Mr. Alvan Macaulay will take place at St. Andrew's church, Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Miss Estelle Littlepage, sister of the bride, will be maid of honor, wearing pale green silk and carrying pink fringed chrysanthemums. Misses May Canby, Osborn of West of Baltimore, Theobald, and Marie and Ida Young will wear white organdie, daintily trimmed with green ribbons and carry bouquets of white chrysanthemums. The bride will be gown in white satin, trimmed with pearls and rare lace, and her bouquet will be of lilies of the valley.

At the home of Mrs. J. H. and Kate V. McIntyre, aged seven years and six months.

The wedding of Miss Estelle Littlepage, daughter of Capt. H. Beverly Littlepage, and Mr. Alvan Macaulay will take place at St. Andrew's church, Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Miss Estelle Littlepage, sister of the bride, will be maid of honor, wearing pale green silk and carrying pink fringed chrysanthemums. Misses May Canby, Osborn of West of Baltimore, Theobald, and Marie and Ida Young will wear white organdie, daintily trimmed with green ribbons and carry bouquets of white chrysanthemums. The bride will be gown in white satin, trimmed with pearls and rare lace, and her bouquet will be of lilies of the valley.

At the home of Mrs. J. H. and Kate V. McIntyre, aged seven years and six months.

The wedding of Miss Estelle Littlepage, daughter of Capt. H. Beverly Littlepage, and Mr. Alvan Macaulay will take place at St. Andrew's church, Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Miss Estelle Littlepage, sister of the bride, will be maid of honor, wearing pale green silk and carrying pink fringed chrysanthemums. Misses May Canby, Osborn of West of Baltimore, Theobald, and Marie and Ida Young will wear white organdie, daintily trimmed with green ribbons and carry bouquets of white chrysanthemums. The bride will be gown in white satin, trimmed with pearls and rare lace, and her bouquet will be of lilies of the valley.

At the home of Mrs. J. H. and Kate V. McIntyre, aged seven years and six months.

The wedding of Miss Estelle Littlepage, daughter of Capt. H. Beverly Littlepage, and Mr. Alvan Macaulay will take place at St. Andrew's church, Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Miss Estelle Littlepage, sister of the bride, will be maid of honor, wearing pale green silk and carrying pink fringed chrysanthemums. Misses May Canby, Osborn of West of Baltimore, Theobald, and Marie and Ida Young will wear white organdie, daintily trimmed with green ribbons and carry bouquets of white chrysanthemums. The bride will be gown in white satin, trimmed with pearls and rare lace, and her bouquet will be of lilies of the valley.

At the home of Mrs. J. H. and Kate V. McIntyre, aged seven years and six months.

The wedding of Miss Estelle Littlepage, daughter of Capt. H. Beverly Littlepage, and Mr. Alvan Macaulay will take place at St. Andrew's church, Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Miss Estelle Littlepage, sister of the bride, will be maid of honor, wearing pale green silk and carrying pink fringed chrysanthemums. Misses May Canby, Osborn of West of Baltimore, Theobald, and Marie and Ida Young will wear white organdie, daintily trimmed with green ribbons and carry bouquets of white chrysanthemums. The bride will be gown in white satin, trimmed with pearls and rare lace, and her bouquet will be of lilies of the valley.

At the home of Mrs. J. H. and Kate V. McIntyre, aged seven years and six months.

The wedding of Miss Estelle Littlepage, daughter of Capt. H. Beverly Littlepage, and Mr. Alvan Macaulay will take place at St. Andrew's church, Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Miss Estelle Littlepage, sister of the bride, will be maid of honor, wearing pale green silk and carrying pink fringed chrysanthemums. Misses May Canby, Osborn of West of Baltimore, Theobald, and Marie and Ida Young will wear white organdie, daintily trimmed with green ribbons and carry bouquets of white chrysanthemums. The bride will be gown in white satin, trimmed with pearls and rare lace, and her bouquet will be of lilies of the valley.

At the home of Mrs. J. H. and Kate V. McIntyre, aged seven years and six months.

The wedding of Miss Estelle Littlepage, daughter of Capt. H. Beverly Littlepage, and Mr. Alvan Macaulay will take place at St. Andrew's church, Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Miss Estelle Littlepage, sister of the bride, will be maid of honor, wearing pale green silk and carrying pink fringed chrysanthemums. Misses May Canby, Osborn of West of Baltimore, Theobald, and Marie and Ida Young will wear white organdie, daintily trimmed with green ribbons and carry bouquets of white chrysanthemums. The bride will be gown in white satin, trimmed with pearls and rare lace, and her bouquet will be of lilies of the valley.

At the home of Mrs. J. H. and Kate V. McIntyre, aged seven years and six months.

The wedding of Miss Estelle Littlepage, daughter of Capt. H. Beverly Littlepage, and Mr. Alvan Macaulay will take place at St. Andrew's church, Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Miss Estelle Littlepage, sister of the bride, will be maid of honor, wearing pale green silk and carrying pink fringed chrysanthemums. Misses May Canby, Osborn of West of Baltimore, Theobald, and Marie and Ida Young will wear white organdie, daintily trimmed with green ribbons and carry bouquets of white chrysanthemums. The bride will be gown in white satin, trimmed with pearls and rare lace, and her bouquet will be of lilies of the valley.

At the home of Mrs. J. H. and Kate V. McIntyre, aged seven years and six months.

The wedding of Miss Estelle Littlepage, daughter of Capt. H. Beverly Littlepage, and Mr. Alvan Macaulay will take place at St. Andrew's church, Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Miss Estelle Littlepage, sister of the bride, will be maid of honor, wearing pale green silk and carrying pink fringed chrysanthemums. Misses May Canby, Osborn of West of Baltimore, Theobald, and Marie and Ida Young will wear white organdie, daintily trimmed with green ribbons and carry bouquets of white chrysanthemums. The bride will be gown in white satin, trimmed with pearls and rare lace, and her bouquet will be of lilies of the valley.

At the home of Mrs. J. H. and Kate V. McIntyre, aged seven years and six months.

The wedding of Miss Estelle Littlepage, daughter of Capt. H. Beverly Littlepage, and Mr. Alvan Macaulay will take place at St. Andrew's church, Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Miss Estelle Littlepage, sister of the bride, will be maid of honor, wearing pale green silk and carrying pink fringed chrysanthemums. Misses May Canby, Osborn of West of Baltimore, Theobald, and Marie and Ida Young will wear white organdie, daintily trimmed with green ribbons and carry bouquets of white chrysanthemums. The bride will be gown in white satin, trimmed with pearls and rare lace, and her bouquet will be of lilies of the valley.

At the home of Mrs. J. H. and Kate V. McIntyre, aged seven years and six months.

The wedding of Miss Estelle Littlepage, daughter of Capt. H. Beverly Littlepage, and Mr. Alvan Macaulay will take place at St. Andrew's church, Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Miss Estelle Littlepage, sister of the bride, will be maid of honor, wearing pale green silk and carrying pink fringed chrysanthemums. Misses May Can